Carolinas & Tri-Point Delegates Shine at the 2026 World's Universal Beauty Competition in Montgomery

MONTGOMERY, AL — The TriPoint Our Little Miss and the North and South Carolina Our Little Miss regional pageants proudly congratulate its delegates on an outstanding showing at the 2026 Our Little Miss World's Universal Beauty and Universal Prince Competition in Montgomery, Alabama.

"I am so proud of every delegate and the hard work you put into this event," said Denita Boss, Regional Director. "They represented our program so beautifully—onstage and off—with confidence, kindness, and class."

Special Congratulations to Our 2026 Titleholders

- 2026 World's Universal Beauty 13–15: Jorja Truitt
- 2026 World's Universal Beauty 40+: Lindsay Harrell Jones
- 2026 World's Universal Beauty Prince 10–12: Robert Pridgen

Jorja Truitt, the 2026 World's Universal Beauty (13–15), is a 13-year-old honor student and active school leader and dancer. She is a volunteer with her local SPCA and supports the Delaware Dignity Project, which helps distribute essential items to women and teens experiencing hardship. She resides in Rehoboth, DE.

Following her crowning as the 2026 World's Universal Beauty (40+), Lindsay Harrell Jones, 42, shared heartfelt gratitude for her pageant family and the unforgettable experience. A resident of Bailey, NC, she is a former biological engineer and mom of four. She was also the division's Photogenic winner.

When Robert Pridgen III stepped off the stage as the 2026 World's Universal Prince (10–12), noted that watching his mother compete previously inspired him to take the stage himself. Pridgen is a 7th grade student. He resides in Columbia, SC, with his mother and five siblings.
